Police Guarding Inauguration In Venezuela

Communist Threat Feared After First Election in 10 Years

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Troops and police stood guard today against the threats of Communists and rightists to disrupt the inauguration of President Romulo Betancourt.

Betancourt, 50, a moderate leftist and political veteran, is Venezuela's first freely elected president in 10 years. The leader of the Democratic Action party, he is opposed by supporters of ousted dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez, Caracans who voted heavily for the leader of the junta which replaced Perez Jimenez, and the Reds.

Intelligence agents said the opposition planned street disorders during the inauguration, with women dressed in black to block traffic around the Capitol while demonstrators denounced the president.

The newspaper Pregon said free liquor was distributed in a big working class neighborhood to get gangs of youths drunk so they would roam the streets and cause trouble.

A demonstration reportedly arranged for midnight in the central El Silencio district of Caracas did not come off, however. Streets in the area were practically deserted. The district was the site of battles between police and rioters Tuesday night.

Betancourt ordered the inaugural ceremonies kept simple because of the legacy of unemployment and poverty from the ousted dictatorship. He dispensed with the usual parade, grand ball and banquet.

The most elaborate event was a formal reception Thursday night at the Foreign Ministry for foreign delegates to the inaugural. Only a small crowd turned out in the Plaza Bolivar to watch the guests in evening dress.

Betancourt made plain that he would not rush ahead with the proposals by leftist and nationalistic elements that the foreign operators of the oil industry give Venezuela a much larger share of the profits.

Development Group Tours Save-Way Co.

The Save-Way Sales & Mfg. Co., which manufactures boat trailers and industrial space heaters at its plant on the Newgarden Road, was visited by officers of the Salem Area Development Council Thursday afternoon in another of the group's local plant visitations.

Gail Herron is in charge of the plant tours which are being made to survey the industry of the area.

Save-Way started in 1945, incorporated three years later and has subsequently added a second building. Company President Lloyd Parker told the Council delegation.

Average employment is 45 to 50 but right now 41 are at work. The plant is running at about 60 percent of capacity, even though general industrial expansion has reflected a decline in industrial heating business.

In the boat trailer business, Save-Way is ranked about fourth in the nation, Mr. Parker explained. There are 21 major boat trailer firms besides smaller concerns.

The first line of the trailers made here are marketed under the name

Zimmerman Garage Burglarized Again

One incident of breaking and entering and two other cases of attempted enterings were reported to police this morning.

Zimmerman's Auto Sales at 170 N. Lundy Ave. was robbed of an undetermined amount of cash last night, the second time the garage has been entered by thieves this week. Steve Karnoff, parts manager, discovered the theft when he reported for work at 7:45 a.m. this morning.

Karnoff told police the establishment was ransacked and money was taken from cash drawers in both the parts department and in an office. A window was broken in another office.

Burglars also entered the garage last Tuesday.

Charles Fox, secretary-treasurer of the Salem Label Co. at 838 S. Lundy Ave., told police this morning that someone broke a window on the north side of the building but did not enter the building.

A routine check of the Bus Terminal on N. Ellsworth at 4:15 a.m. today by police revealed that the glass had been broken in a window on the north door of the building.

Police said the thief did not gain entrance.

Political Axes Grind Away in GOP Speeches

Lincoln Day Talks Lash Out Against Democratic Policies

By The Associated Press
Republican speakers swung sharp verbal axes Thursday night as they chipped away at Democratic policies in Lincoln Day speeches across the nation.

They heaped volumes of praise on the rail-splitting Civil War president who was born 150 years ago. They strongly defended the leadership and policies of President Eisenhower.

The speech-makers criticized the Democrats as wanting more spending and controls along with bigger government. They asked for greater restraint in federal spending and cautioned that excessive spending means higher taxes.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell took a wide swing at the Democrats in a Boston speech. He said: "When it comes to personal rights for all Americans, no Republican owes a debt — political, financial or moral — to any one group, any one faction, any one system or organization. The compromises are all on their side. The implied promise and the part performance is all theirs."

Challenged Congress
In New York, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers challenged the Democratic-controlled Congress to boost taxes to cover any programs that would jab through the budget ceiling. "The future strength of our nation requires strong fiscal policies," he said.

Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, speaking in Brooklyn, also called for a pay-as-you-go operation. He reminded his audience that New York's Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller "is following that course—that is, trying to raise taxes."

Republican National Chairman Meade A. Akin told an audience at Silver Spring, Md., the Democrats are befuddled by the complexities of the future. He said the Democrats' solution for everything is bigger government, more spending, more taxes and more controls.

At Bridgeport, Conn., Charles C. Finucane, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, hit what he called the "absurd slander" by Democrats that Eisenhower is not in command of the government but is a custodial type of chief executive. He said he knew Eisenhower in every sense of the word.

Khushchev Off Base
Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) said at Los Angeles that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khushchev was off base when he said the Republicans lost the November elections because of U.S. foreign policies. Kuchel said foreign policy has been bipartisan for the last six years.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), another speaker in New York, described modern Republicanism as "Lincolinian Republicanism brought up to date"

Youth Admits 55 Burglaries Entered Homes In Two-County Area

LISBON — Cornelius Joseph Splain III, 19, of Canfield Rd., who was bound over to the Columbiana Grand Jury under $1,000 bond for the Jan. 21 burglary of the antique shop owned by R. Max Gard of RD 4, Lisbon, has admitted burglarizing 40 homes in Boardman, Poland and the Austintown areas, Mahoning County Sheriff Paul J. Langley reports.

Splain also confessed to 15 other burglaries in the Youngstown city area, Langley said.

At present, Splain is free on $5,000 bond after pleading innocent Feb. 7 to the burglary of an inhabited dwelling in the night season.

Ohio's Flood Threat Vanishes

Maumee's Ice Pack Reaches Lake Erie

By The Associated Press
The last remaining bits and pieces of a massive ice pack in the Maumee River flowed sluggishly into Lake Erie today, and with them went all further flood threats for Ohio.

The ice's final casualty, apparently, was the ill-fated cruise ship Canadiana, crippled anew by huge rip in its starboard bow. The 210-foot Great Lakes excursion ship was put out of commission last July after colliding with a railroad bridge spanning the Maumee at Toledo.

Ice from an earlier jam tore an 18-inch gash along a seam in one of the Canadiana's forward compartments Thursday night. Her owner, Gordon Vigneau, feared the second and final ice pack this morning would sink his ship, but the ice passed, and the Canadiana is still afloat.

Crewmen Worked
Emergency crewmen worked throughout the early morning hours to pump out water and managed to right the ship from a 20-degree starboard list to a 5-degree list.

The Maumee River, meanwhile, has dropped to its normal level

Japan Okays Transfers to North Korea

TOKYO (AJ) — Japan agreed today to let poverty-stricken Koreans here go to Communist North Korea in defiance of a South Korean government warning that it would resist the transfer "with every power at its disposal."

The deepening crisis threatened to create new divisions between two of the firmest friends the United States has in the Far East. Both governments held hurried consultations with American representatives in Tokyo and Seoul.

There seemed little or no likelihood that the quarrel, so far confined to verbal blasts and implied threats from South Korea, would blow up into a shooting conflict. But there was a danger of a break in economic relations and in diplomatic negotiations going on between the two countries.

The Japanese government was

Dulles' Operation Termed Successful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today underwent a successful operation for hernia.

State Department press chief Lincoln White announced the surgery was successful and Dulles' immediate postoperative condition was quite satisfactory.

White said tissue and fluid were removed during the operation "for microsurgical examination."

Such an examination would be to determine whether there was a cancerous condition.

White said Dulles was on the operating table less than an hour.

White's announcement to newsmen was made at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center. The operation was performed there by the hospital commandant, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton.

White indicated no word had come from the doctors on the results of the examination of tissues and fluids.

Word that surgery had begun was relayed to newsmen around 8:10 a.m.

The announcement of results came about 2½ hours later.

ended on the upper Wabash River above Delphi, Ind., after driving thousands of persons from their homes. West Terre Haute was in line as the next major target of the flood waters.

Sandbagging crews, including National Guardsmen, worked through the night in a steady drizzle at West Terre Haute until a temporary dike along Sugar Creek, a Wabash River tributary, instead of trying to patch a 300 foot break in the permanent levee. Some 150 homes were evacuated. The town of 3,300 was declared a state of emergency by town officials.

Prepared To Return

Meanwhile, evacuated families in Logansport and Wabash prepared to return to their homes. The Wabash also dropped rapidly at Peru, one of the communities hardest hit by the midwinter floods.

In Ohio, the Maumee River, after overflowing in several places along a 20-mile stretch southwest of Toledo, dropped back to normal after a huge ice jam moved into Lake Erie.

Residents were returning to their homes in other northern Ohio communities. Hardest hit cities were Fremont, Findlay, Warren, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa, but the overflows did not cause as extensive damage as the floods in January.

Fairly mild winter weather prevailed in wide areas from Texas to the Great Lakes region and eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

Southerly winds pushed warm air from the Gulf and with it came widespread precipitation and considerable cloudiness. Light rains or drizzle sprinkled most areas except in western Texas and from Pennsylvania northward.

Two Mishaps Probed By Highway Patrol

One driver was arrested Thursday by state highway patrolmen following one of two minor auto mishaps on area roads.

Newell Kelly, 36, of RD 1, Leetonia, was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead after his auto struck the rear of a car driven by Thomas F. Mercina, 31, of Lisbon on Rt. 45, just south of Salem, at 6:45 a.m.

John Bridge, 17, of Salineville, lost control of his car which left the road and crashed into a utility pole on Rt. 164, two miles south of Lisbon at 5:40 p.m.

Reunification Formula Still To Be Developed

Free National Vote Is in Background At Present Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western leaders expect to draft within the next month a new formula for German reunification. They hope it may promote serious negotiations with the Soviet Union for uniting East and West Germany.

The shape of the formula is still to be determined, but it is expected to push the Western request for free all-German elections somewhat into the background.

Many experts now believe that the unifying process could go on for as much as two years before nationwide elections were held. In the meantime practical steps in the economic and political field could be taken to bring the two Germanies closer together.

Diplomatic informants said today that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany are guided by two main tactical considerations in the wholesale review of their German policies which is now under way.

Test Possibility
Their primary aim is to test to the limit — without sacrificing vital Western interests — the possibility that the Soviet government may be ready for serious negotiations and compromises on the unity issue.

Their other concern is to demonstrate to the world a Western readiness to negotiate with initiative and flexibility.

Several Western concessions already have become known as a result of exchanges among the governments in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn. These concessions include:

1. A decision to propose in a forthcoming note to the Soviet government that German advisers participate in a prospective East-West foreign ministers conference.

2. A declared readiness—recently stated by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles—to have a foreign ministers conference with

Red Historian Says Columbus Didn't Discover America

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet historian says Christopher Columbus didn't discover America — but he doesn't claim a Russian did. Moscow radio said the historian's study of ancient documents showed that Columbus already had maps giving the position of some lands of the New World when he set out aboard the Santa Maria on his famous voyage in 1492.

Somebody, the Soviet concluded must have visited those places to put them on the map.

The research was carried out by a lecturer at the Alma Ata Pedagogical Institute identified only as Supruny.

Supruny made a detailed study of publications and documents in Portuguese, Spanish and Italian archives, the broadcast said.

The theory he advanced before the U.S.S.R. Geographical Society was that "European navigators had visited the New World (before Columbus) but the names of these navigators remained unknown."

His First Valentine

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Abner Joggle, president of the Acme Tidyworks Co., liked to open his own mail.

Riffling through a stack he came to an unusual letter. Unstamped, it merely bore a typed greeting: "To the nicest guy in the world."

Joggle opened the missive and found therein a small card adorned with crimson hearts and the following jingle: "Roses are red, and violets are blue."

"You are our Valentine, Boss, we love you!"

The card was unsigned. Beaming with pleasure, Joggle handed it to Eloise Phleeb, his secretary. A look of utter disbelief came into her face.

"Did you sent it?" asked Joggle. "Me?" Miss Phleeb appeared horrified at the mere idea.

"You know, it's the first real Valentine I've received since I was in kindergarten," said Joggle. "Who sent you one then?" inquired Miss Phleeb — and could have bitten off her tongue. She hadn't meant to say that. But the idea of anyone ever sending Joggle a valentine did seem rather unbelievable. So did the thought of him having ever gone to kindergarten.

Pretending not to notice her discomfiture, Joggle said amiably: "Well, I sure do appreciate this card. I wonder if you could circulate it around the office and find out who is responsible for it."

Dutifully, Eloise took the card and canvassed the office. The reactions ranged from startled wonder to outright indignation. Everyone denied sending the card. All stoutly pleaded innocent.

When Miss Phleeb reported to her boss her inability to find his office admirer, somehow Joggle didn't seem too surprised.

"The best kindness is always anonymous," he murmured. Shortly before quitting time the entire office staff was summoned. As each one entered, he was handed a one-pound heart-shaped box of candy.

In dazed silence they listened as Joggle arose and said: "Someone really touched my heart this morning with an unexpected gesture of remembrance. But I want you to know the feeling expressed was mutual."

"The box of candy you have been handed is for your wife or sweetheart. But the $10 bonus each of you will receive on your next paycheck is my Valentine to you. Thank you one and all."

That night at diner Joggle recounted the incidents of the day to his wife. That durable woman idsaolf smst was reprou was most surprised of all.

OSU Students Fight ROTC Requirement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Students have begun a fight against the compulsory military training program at Ohio State University, reopening an issue that split the campus in pre-World War II years.

Petitions to eliminate the mandatory two years service in the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) were circulated Thursday by the Ohio Students Party Associated, a campus political party.

Roger Johnson, OSPA campaign manager, said 1,200 names were obtained. He said the goal is 7,000 signatures.

Since 1873, military training at Ohio State has been compulsory by order of the university trustees. Federal land grant colleges, such as Ohio State, are required to offer military training but are not required to make it compulsory.

The petitions will be sent to the Ohio State Student Senate, the university trustees and the Ohio Legislature, asking them "to do everything in their power to do away with compulsory ROTC."

In 1934, a conscientious objector stirred the campus with his fight against military training. Courts upheld the right of land grant colleges to compel male students to take military training.

Ex-Marine, 20, Pleads Guilty to Murder

MCCONNELLSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A 20-year-old ex-Marine has been charged with second-degree murder in the pistol-slaying of a South Charleston, W. Va., salesman.

Lowell Eugene Oliver pleaded guilty to the charge Thursday and was bound to a special April grand jury.

He is accused of fatally shooting Thomas Camden Roach, 31, as they sat and argued in a car on a rural road southwest of here Wednesday night. Both had been drinking at a tavern earlier that day.

The appointment review includes some 26 or 27 persons. DiSalle said most of the appointments seem to be good ones. The appointments are awaiting Senate Rules Committee action.

The study includes a review of the appointment of Edwin Green to the Canton Regional Board of Review of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation and James R. Stephenson's appointment to the Natural Resources Commission.

Next week, DiSalle said he plans to send a message to the Legislature concerning public health.

'Attrition' Is a Fancy Word for It

If it makes congressmen unhappy to hear him harping about living within the federal government's income, why doesn't President Eisenhower think of something more pleasant to talk about?

The answer to that question was a terse story on the financial pages at the end of last week.

The U.S. Treasury, the story said, would have to go into the money market for a billion and a-half dollars this week because it was short of cash.

It is short of cash because in its current 15-billion-dollar refinancing effort to keep the national debt afloat the U.S. Treasury has learned that the holders of more than two billion dollars' worth of bonds have decided to cash them in and invest their money elsewhere.

This, admits the Treasury, was an unusually high "attrition."

"Attrition" means to "wear out." More government bondholders than usual have "worn out," meaning more than usual have concluded it would be wise to invest their money in something else.

IT WOULD APPEAR that the Spendocrats who are boosting budget recommendations willy-nilly to show what open-handed philanthropists they are with other people's money never heard about anything as grim and ugly as the way the government must borrow money to cover federal deficits.

They never heard of the sag in federal credit last summer that made prudent officials like Treasury Secretary Anderson wonder how much more deficit spending it would take to undermine the government's credit.

Presumably, these inspired spenders would climb over one another to invest their money in a private enterprise that showed no inclination to live within its income. But many of them, on the other hand, know no more about either public or private finance than they know about astronomical physics.

President Eisenhower cannot blurt out in a press conference that he is concerned about the credit of the United States; he could set off a panic in the money market. But Treasury Secretary Anderson can say in a hearing before the Joint Congressional Economic Committee that "current deficits and fear of future deficits can keep people from saving because of possible loss of savings to inflation."

SECRETARY ANDERSON declared that balancing the budget was not something worth doing for its own sake but something that had to be done to sustain confidence in the government. As far as he is concerned, the country can spend more than the 77 billion dollars recommended as long as it pays its own way.

But if Spendocrats boost the spending and back away from new taxes to cover the bill, that will undermine the confidence of lenders who underwrite the national debt with their savings.

If they ever decide that the nation's credit is not a good risk, the Spendocrats can whistle for money and never get any more. It is always other people's money they want to spend, not their own. To get it, they first must get other people's confidence.

Gov. DiSalle Defines a Delicate Issue

Whether or not the Ohio General Assembly can resolve the capital punishment issue as defined for it by Gov. DiSalle is problematic.

The governor in his message to the Ohio legislature has made a clear presentation of a delicate issue. He has chosen to stress the moral aspects, but he has not neglected the law-enforcement aspect.

In summary, he has pointed out there is no conclusive evidence that capital punishment is a deterrent to the crime of murder and that in the absence of such evidence Ohio should join the states that have abolished capital punishment on moral grounds.

The question the legislators must settle in their mind is whether the evidence that capital punishment is a deterrent to murder is as inconclusive as Gov. DiSalle believes it is. If they could be shown that the possibility of death in the electric chair caused some would-be murderers in Ohio to back away from the commission of the deed, they would be inclined to keep capital punishment in force—and they should.

Their decision is complicated, unfortunately, by uncertainty about what needs to be done to other provisions in the Ohio law for dealing with first-degree murderers. The day before Gov. DiSalle gave the Ohio Assembly his views on capital punishment, a parole was granted to an Ohio prisoner convicted on a charge of first-degree murder growing out of a holdup in Cleveland in 1940, in which a private guard was killed.

Former Gov. O'Neill had commuted the prisoner's first-degree conviction to second-degree to make him eligible for parole. It is exactly this kind of procedure that makes many Ohio jurists and policemen fearful of the results of abolishing capital punishment. They are afraid that shooting to kill, with no possibility of capital punishment, might become a form of violence in which the game always would seem to be worth the candle.

Gov. DiSalle says the decision belongs to the legislators; that he will not try to impose his judgment, now that he has made it public.

Everything depends on whether capital punishment has been a deterrent to the crime of murder. That is a matter of legislative judgment. The governor doubts that it has. On that basis, he thinks capital punishment should be abolished on moral grounds.

Humanitarian Gesture

Because Columbiana County never has had a receiving home for the care of neglected children, probate court officials have had to rely on the use of selected private homes for sheltering these unfortunate youngsters until such time as they could be placed in homes for adoption or for foster homes care.

Within about 90 days, however, this situation will be remedied as the result of the gift to the county of the former Lafayette Kyes home at East Palestine. The 13-room structure has been donated for that purpose by Roger M. Kyes of Detroit in honor of the memory of his parents, who were well-known through their own civic activities.

The county is indeed grateful to Mr. Kyes, one of President Eisenhower's early cabinet members, and to the East Palestine Kiwanis Club which sponsored the move to secure the large residence for use as a children's shelter. Probate Judge Louis Tobin has indicated that remodeling of the Kyes home will begin at once to bring it safe building standards.

The care of unwanted children, tragic that it is, is the responsibility of the probate court. We share with the court the sense of satisfaction in now having proper facilities for sheltering children whose fate in life certainly is not their choosing and who deserve every humanitarian consideration.

There have been many cases when the heart has stopped and started again — like Mom's when the baby falls out of the high chair.

In the old days a man proposed to a girl on his knees when she wasn't even sitting there.

Once Over

City job holders everywhere may be required to adopt code of ethics if New York idea is followed. It seems that too many city employees, despite home, school and even college training, have had trouble telling difference between right and wrong.

It's hard to see how a code can be much help but if written instructions are needed to keep such people honest, who can object? The New York code is too windy. Only two sentences really are needed:

1. Consult your conscience twice a year.
 2. Never work both sides of the street.
- It should begin with the words: "You must have heard of the Ten Commandments and been brought up right. But we are sending you a copy of a code just in case they got the brushoff."

MANY BIG CITIES of the United States have had trouble from finaglers and grafters, large, small and medium, for generations. Dick Croker would have sneered, "Sure I know what a code is. It's what you check with your hat in a restaurant." Boss Tweed might have snapped, "Look up this ethics business. If I get my cut I'm for it."

"The conflict of interests" is the target of Gotham proposed Code of Ethics. Great danger is that even a member of some Board of Ethical Enforcement would have so much trouble understanding ethics that he might put three cousins on city payroll to help him find out whether the word is spelled with two "t's."

There have been people in big city administrations since pioneer days who have thought a conflict of interest meant deciding which three out of four larcenous ideas would trouble their conscience the least.

Unmasking Fidel Castro

By Westbrook Pegler

More blood will flow before Fidel Castro takes off his whiskers and permits the world, and particularly the Cuban people, to look him in the face. This hysterical, womanish fuener-duce has had a season of gory exultation at the expense of Cuban patriots who, in time to come, will be heroes in the hearts of men.

The films of those terrible lynchings will never be expunged and future generations of Cuban men and boys may salute exemplars of patriotic bravery and uncompromising manhood whom other nations may respect as great Cubans. Far from degrading the chief of police of Santa Clara who walked to the wall and stood with his hat on, glaring with contempt at tremulous musketeers, Castro enshrined a man whose eyes looked past the firing squad straight into the eyes of Castro.

IT IS WRITTEN that the men who were lynched by Castro's rabble had been guilty of "war crimes." Not to delve into the terrible precedents of Nuremberg, be it observed that such brutality in Hello, Out There . . .

Maj. Gen. Donald Keirn, head of the Air Force nuclear engine program, thinks that if life exists on other planets we may hear it before we see it.

Scientists, of course, have long speculated on the prospect, and many believe that conditions favoring life on other bodies are to be presumed in great numbers within planetary systems all over the universe.

In dreaming about it, though, we've mostly imagined that one day we'd step out of a rocket and be greeted by some little man with feet two inches long and eyes four feet wide. Or something. Kerin says what's likely to happen is that "we'll identify their existence through the interception of their communications before we meet them face to face."

In other words, some future American space jockey, idly twiddling his electronic dials, one day will suddenly be startled to hear: "And so, ladies and gentlemen, I give you that man of sterling character, that paragon of courage, that great humanitarian and statesman, the next president of Mars."

Lincoln On Equality

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Former President Was Often Outspoken

The nation is celebrating this week the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Eloquent eulogies are being spoken — and he deserves them all. But if what Abraham Lincoln said just 100 years ago were attributed today to anyone else in public life, the same utterances would be denounced as coming from a "racist," "extremist," or a person who "defies" the Constitution.

Few people realize how outspoken Abraham Lincoln was against a Supreme Court decision and how he insisted that a mere overturning of precedent in a ruling was not "settled law." It was just 100 years ago when Abraham Lincoln was debating with Stephen Douglas in the State of Illinois.

Only a few months ago the Library of Congress published a book containing facsimiles of the printers' copy of the stenographic record of Lincoln - Douglas debates "as edited and prepared for the press by Abraham Lincoln."

Following is a quotation from Mr. Lincoln's speech delivered on July 13, 1858, at Chicago:

"The sacredness that Judge Douglas throws around this decision (of the Supreme Court of the United States) is a degree of sacredness that has never been before thrown around any other decision. I have never heard of such a thing. Why, decisions apparently contrary to that decision, or that good lawyers thought were contrary to that decision, have been made by that very court before. It is the first of its kind; it is an astonisher in legal history — it is a new wonder of the world."

IN SPEAKING further of the Dred Scott Decision, Mr. Lincoln said at Quincy, Ill., on Oct. 13, 1858:

"But we nevertheless do oppose that decision as a political rule which shall be binding on the voter to vote for nobody who thinks it wrong, which shall be binding on the members of Congress or the president to favor no measure that does not actually concur with the principles of that decision. We do not propose to be bound by it as a political rule in that way. . . . we propose so resisting it as to have it reversed if we can, and a new judicial rule established upon this subject."

In another speech delivered in Chicago on July 17, 1858, Mr. Lincoln quoted with approval a letter from Thomas Jefferson, written in 1820, which declared that if the judges of the Supreme Court are to be considered as "the ultimate arbiters of all constitutional questions," this could be a "very dangerous doctrine indeed and one which would place us under the despotism of an oligarchy."

IN A SPEECH delivered at Ottawa, Ill., on Aug. 21, 1858, Mr. Lincoln took up the race question. He denounced slavery, but then added:

"I have no purpose to introduce political and social equality between the white and the black races. There is a physical difference between the two, which in my judgment will probably forever forbid their living together upon the footing of perfect equality, and inasmuch as it becomes a necessity that there must be a difference, I, as well as Judge Douglas, am in favor of the race to which I belong having the superior position."

"I have never said anything to the contrary, but I hold that notwithstanding all this, there is no reason in the world why the Negro is not entitled to all the natural rights enumerated in the Declaration of Independence, the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. I hold that he is as much entitled to these as the white man."

"I agree with Judge Douglas, he is not my equal in many respects — certainly not in color, perhaps not in moral or intellectual endowment. But in the right to eat the bread, without leave of anybody else, which his own hand earns, he is my equal and the equal of Judge Douglas, and the equal of every living man. . . ."

"What Next? Free them and make them politically and socially our equals? My own feelings will not admit of this; and if mine would, we well know that those of the great mass of white people will not. Whether this feeling accords with justice and sound judgment is not the sole question, if, indeed it is any part of it. A universal feeling whether well or ill-founded, cannot be safely disregarded. We cannot, then, make them equals. . . ."

WITH FURTHER reference to the equality or inequality of the races, Mr. Lincoln said, on Sept. 18, 1858, at Charleston, Ill.:

"I will say then that I am not, nor ever have been in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races — that I am not nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people; and I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality. And inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together there must be the position of superior and inferior, and I, as much as any other man am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the white race. . . . I will add to this that I have never seen to my knowledge a man, woman or child who was in favor of producing a perfect equality, social and political, between Negroes and white men."

The New York Herald-Tribune

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

The big news 10 years ago concerned Communists, Hungarians and bickering between the Soviet Union and the United States. Things don't change much.

It is my belief that every married couple would like to believe they looked like Marge and Gower Champion at one point in their married lives — or that they felt something like the Champions looked as if they felt.

History has been kind to Abraham Lincoln, whose stature continues to increase year by year. But it has been unkind to Mrs. Lincoln, whose admirers now admit she was one of the most difficult of all women to get along with during her martyred husband's trying years in the White House.

Meyer Berger of the New York Times has died — perhaps the ablest writer of his day as far as "color" stories for his newspaper were concerned. The ironic thing is that few people outside New York City ever heard of Berger, though they knew so much about lesser writers unfit to carry his eraser.

The best takeoff on Arthur Murray, as it happens, is done by the gentleman, himself. No one else can hold a candle to him.

These are melancholy days of the year for our friends in the sports department, and we feel sorry for them. Even people who like basketball must admit it's nothing to write about, being all zip, zip and whistle, whistle.

I think by a conservative estimate close to 90 per cent of the people in this world would admit on any given day, if questioned, that they felt too rotten to get up and go to work that morning but clenched their teeth and came to work anyway.

Has the White House ever issued a more perplexing statement than the one with bearing on the incident last September when a U.S.

transport plane with 17 persons aboard was shot down near the border of Turkey and Soviet Armenia that pilots had been told some time ago not to enter Soviet border patrol planes to rise in defense of their own territory?

While everybody is talking about smaller cars, no one seems to be worrying about bigger ones. Here is a prediction that within five years the automotive behemoth as we have known it for the last 30 years will have disappeared from the American scene.

When I get time to think it over, I'll try to understand about missile programs being cancelled after millions of dollars have been spent because the missiles involved became obsolete before they ever failed to get off the ground.

If you have not understood so far why the federal budget fight is a hoax as far as arithmetic is concerned, the tipoff is that programs are not listed according to what they will cost per year but according to what someone estimates they might cost over three, four, or five years — yet the whole amount is lifted as if it were going to be spent in a single year. No one who does not know what it feels like to start sinking on a city street or country road when the frost leaves the ground can comprehend what conditions were like before hard-surfaced streets and highways.

The shrewdest thing professional baseball ever did was to make a running story out of its players' contract negotiations during a time of the year when readers are yearning for something to talk about.

'Dutch Treat' Dinner Held by Leornians

Using a song book, "Sing and Dance with the Pennsylvania Dutch" Mrs. Walter Hofmeister provided accompaniment on the piano and the autoharp for group singing.

East Palestine Boys Admit Burglaries

EAST PALESTINE — Two boys, aged 17 and 13, Thursday confessed to a series of burglaries here dating back to Aug. 4, 1958.

Local police sent out an alert for an older youth, who was under suspicion in connection with the crimes, after he left home two weeks ago.

He was picked up last weekend in Portsmouth, Va. After his return here, he admitted the burglaries and implicated the younger boy.

The August burglary was at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home on E. Taggart St. where the boys took between $20 and $30, glassware and some silver. Part of the loot was recovered in the back yard of the younger boy's home where it had been hidden in a bur-lap sack.

They also admitted entering the Alcorn Second-hand Store on E. Clark St., taking a 32 caliber pistol which they told police they later threw out of a car window into a field near Negley. Police haven't found the pistol, although an extensive search was conducted.

In January, the boys again broke into the VFW home, but took nothing. They also admitted entering the Junior High School, but were frightened away when a school official returned to the building.

Police Chief Richard Lotz took the boys to Lisbon today where they will be questioned by juvenile authorities.

BOYS ON PROBATION

LISBON — Three Gardendale youths, aged 12, 13 and 14, were placed on probation this morning by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

The youths caused between $30 and $50 worth of damages to an uninhabited dwelling on McKee St. owned by Robert E. Johnson, 421 Orchard Grove Ave.

Judge Tobin ordered the boys to make restitution for the damages, to stay out of the home and to go straight home from school for the next 30 days.

At Alamosa, Colo., Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.) said next year's campaign must tell the people that the Democrats are too divided to rule the nation.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), at Exeter, N.H., described as "plain nonsense" charges that the administration is putting the budget ahead of the defense of the country and dollars above human welfare.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) said at West Orange, N.J., that Congress should limit federal spending to programs which have real priority.

At Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md.), cautioned that excessive spending means higher taxes — which he said would curtail freedom just as if the government put citizens to enforced labor one day out of every three or four.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) said at Frankfort, Ind., Republicans should stress in the next campaign that if the Democrats win in 1960 it will mean more deficit spending and higher taxes.

Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker told a Toledo, Ohio, dinner crowd President Eisenhower is a born leader who commands worldwide admiration.

Authorities said today that any merger plan acceptable to the West would require at some point all-German elections to choose a new unity government but that the elections would not have to be a first step by any means.

moving cautiously in an obvious effort to placate—or at least not further arouse — President Syngman Rhee's government.

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and his Cabinet after a long meeting approved Foreign Minister Aichiro Fujiyama's recommendation for the repatriation but in effect tossed the whole scheme into the laps of the International Red Cross.

Presumably North Korea will charter ships to transport those cleared for repatriation. It is understood Japan will not furnish ships, and all Japanese companies whose ships operate between Japan and South Korea have canceled sailings because of the crisis.

Rhee's government has charged that the 600,000 or more Koreans living in Japan — most of them poverty stricken and 95 per cent of them originally from South Korea—are being cajoled, threatened and bribed by North Korean sympathizers to go to the North. The South Koreans charge they will be sent into Red slavery.

Prospect PTA to See Film at Meeting Monday

Prospect Parent-Teacher Association will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

A film, "From 10 Till 12" will be shown. The film concerns 10 to 12 year-old children and the problems of discipline, guidance and understanding that confront most parents and how much of the conflicting behavior of pre-teens is actually a normal part of their growth and development.

Mothers of second graders will be in charge of the nursery and refreshments.

Music's 'Bad Boy' George Antheil Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — George Antheil, modern American composer and self-styled "Bad Boy of Music," died at his home Thursday night.

Antheil, 58, created a sensation here and in Paris in the mid-1920s with his avant-garde "Ballet Mechanique."

The cause of death was not announced.

Antheil's early works depicted the jazz age and the age of steel. In "Ballet Mechanique" he made use of xylophones, electric bells, a player piano and airplane propellers.

Born in Trenton, N.J., Antheil began to study piano at 6. Four years later, he started lessons in composition with Constantin von Sternberg in Philadelphia. He continued composition work with Ernest Bloch.

A Philadelphia concert manager called for a soloist of the "fiery ultramodern variety" Antheil practiced on the piano for 36 hours straight, got the job and went on a concert tour of Europe. On that tour he was dubbed the "bad boy" composer-pianist of America.

Years later, he titled his autobiography "Bad Boy of Music."

Maumee

and Ohio's second major flooding in three weeks has ended.

The river, backed up by the ice, had overflowed in several spots along a 20-mile stretch southwest of Toledo.

The jam swept through Toledo and carried with it a pile driver, a barge and two sea rescue boats moored at the Maumee River Yacht Club.

When flogs piled up at a New York Central System bridge over the river, 20 loaded coal cars were pushed onto the span to weight it down. The bridge was not damaged.

Finally, the ice floated into the lake.

In other Ohio communities hit by the latest surge of floods, residents were returning to their homes. The second flood cleanup was underway.

Newark, which lost its water supply when a dam burst, was almost back to normal. Auxiliary pumping equipment got pressure in the city's mains up to 90 pounds, 20 pounds below normal. Schools and industry re-opened.

There was no overall estimate of damage in the recent floods, which centered in northern Ohio—Fremont, Findlay, Warren, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa. However, losses were expected to be far below the 96 million dollars done by January floods.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Nikita Khrushchev, once chairman of the commission which arranged Joseph Stalin's funeral, apparently liked his work. To prove that all men are equal in the Soviet Union, Comrade Khrushchev has quietly set up a "People's Militia, Comrades' Courts and similar organs" for a purpose of all those who protest against new forced labor directives and orders shifting hundreds of thousands of workers east to Siberia.

This can be found tucked away in the vast record of the 21st Congress of the Communist party, Soviet Union. News of this new Soviet vigilance should be spread across America, for it appears to bolster the theory of foreign intelligence sources, as well as some of our own, that behind Khrushchev's rocket rattling is a fear that his industrial production system is cracking.

IT WAS KHRUSHCHEV himself, a brilliant master organizer, who deftly announced the new internal police setup — revealing that its job would be to speed up production and not merely to crack down on political protestation.

"The Socialist Society is creating voluntary organs for maintaining public order such as the People's Militia, Comrades' Courts and similar organs," he announced last week in a directive which I can disclose here for the first time.

"They will work in a new way and discharge public functions in a new manner. Voluntary detachments of the People's Militia must take it upon themselves to maintain order in their own localities. The time has come when more veal why he believes he'll need a new special People's Militia such as the separating of women from their families, keeping them in factories and supplying central kitchens in apartment houses for their menfolk so no time is wasted cooking.

All this is not the calm of a leader who believes he can bring heavenly peace down to his people by special sputnik. This man is worried.

NYU Upsets West Virginia 72-70 in Overtime Contest

Mountaineers Get Garden Jinx

Wake Forest Falls To North Carolina

By The Associated Press
There's probably no logical reason for it, but in the last 18 years West Virginia's basketball teams and New York's Madison Square Garden have gone together like ice cream and catsup.

If that strikes you as less than tasty, so it is for the Mountaineers in their dribble digging in the Garden.

Since sweeping through three upset victories to nail the National Invitation Tournament in 1942, West Virginia has made 28 Garden appearances including tournaments and regular season games.

The Garden record is 10-18, including Thursday night's stomach-growing 72-70 loss in overtime to New York University. During the same stretch, West Virginia teams have won 76 per cent of their games on other courts.

NYU came from 11 points behind to apply the Garden jinx, finally clinching the upset when 6-4 Cal Ramsey sank three pressure free throws in the last 80 seconds of overtime.

North Carolina won its 10th straight Atlantic Coast Conference game for a 15-1 record, 75-66 over Wake Forest in a duel climaxed by a fist-swinging brawl; 6-7 Herb Busch had a big night in Virginia's 85-66 victory over VMI; Manhattan improved its tournament chances 71-53 over Syracuse; and Western Kentucky mauled Tampa 89-57 in other major pairings.

North Carolina's winning streak went to nine against Wake Forest in an ACC tussle which broke out into a brawl when the Tar Heels' Lee Shaffer and the Deacons' Charlie Forte collided in a scramble for a loose ball with 30 seconds left and Carolina 11 points ahead.

Both benches emptied to join the free-for-all and some of the 8,220 spectators joined in before police and college officials could break it up. Four Tar Heels hit in double figures with Joe Kepley getting 17, Shaffer and Doug Moe 16 apiece and York Larese 14.

Busch scored 26 points and grabbed 18 rebounds for Virginia, and reserves Darrell Bicknell (23) and Jude Talbott (18) combined for 46 points in Western Kentucky's romp.

George Krajacik scored 20 of his 22 points and Doug Hoffman 14 of his 18 tallies in the second half as Clemson beat Furman 73-64. Jack Whelan's 20 points led Holy Cross over American International 81-63, and Gary Phillips' 26 were tops as Houston spilled Loyola of New Orleans 71-54.

Stuebenville Falls to W. Virginia Wesleyan

By The Associated Press
Ohio college basketball teams came out on the short end of two games with West Virginia quintets Thursday night.

West Virginia Wesleyan extended its season record to 25-1 with an 85-77 conquest of Steubenville.

Bluefield State increased a two-point halftime edge to an 88-70 final verdict over Rio Grande.

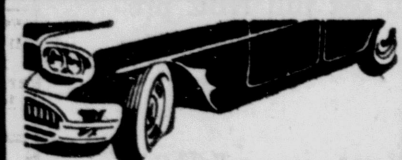

In three other games involving Ohio cagers:

Wittenberg went on a scoring spree in the second half and outpointed Baldwin-Wallace 63 to 22 to obtain a lopsided 104-49 victory.

Ohio Wesleyan staved off a threat as Otterbein came within two points with six minutes to play, and handed the Otters their 13th loss in 14 starts, 75-64.

Oberlin came from behind in the last half and fought back a late rally to beat Hiram, 84-79.

Eighth Grade Loses Seventh Wins Again

Salem Eighth Grade lost 42-17 and Salem Seventh Grade won 40-14 in cage games played at Canfield Thursday.

Paced by the rebounding and scoring of 6-3½ Pete Ort, Canfield Eighth Grade took an early lead over the locals and maintained a margin throughout.

It was Salem's worst shooting night of the season. The locals scored on 15 per cent from the field and 30 per cent from the foul stripe.

Ort was high scorer with 16 markers. Cope paced Salem with 4. The victory was the 10th in a row without a defeat for the Salem Seventh Grade.

Franks paced the locals with 15, followed by Wayne Washington who netted 10.

Helminiak was high for the losers with 6.

John Carroll Names John Ray as Coach

CLEVELAND (AP) — John W. Ray, who was assistant football coach at the University of Detroit last season, will take over as head coach at John Carroll University Monday. He was appointed Thursday night to succeed Herb Eisele, who will devote full time as athletic director at the school.

VOLLEYBALL RESULTS

The Post Office defeated Ohio Edison 12-9, 12-9 and 12-10 in a volleyball match last night while Electric Furnace dumped Bliss 15-1, 15-12 and 14-12 in city league play.

The Buckeye AC beat Foremans Window 2-15, 15-7 and 15-8 while Kiwanis beat Eljer 15-0, 15-9 and 15-1.

play last month in a tie for the top spot. Last night's game decided the winner of the first half.

Last night's contest was nip and tuck throughout with neither team holding more than a five-point lead at one time. The score was deadlocked at 37-37 at the half but Farmers moved on top at 55-54 after three periods.

The clubs traded baskets at a rapid pace in the final frame too. With four minutes left Farmers began to stall after going ahead by five points. They used the strategy to guarantee themselves a spot in the playoffs.

Chuck Greiner topped all scorers for the winners with 25 while John Stephenson had 17, Dick Beall 11 and Andy Saffow 10.

For Burtons, Phil Wenner rimmed 20, Gene Kitzmiller 19 and Curt Nicholson 14.

In second half play in the Wednesday league Bennetts Greenhouse leads the pack with a 6-0 mark while Farmers and Burtons are tied for second with a 5-1 mark.

Regular league play will conclude next Wednesday. A big clash at 7 p.m. will pair Bennetts with Farmers. Should Bennetts win they'll clinch the second half. If Farmers win then a three-way tie will develop since Burtons should get past winless Schaffer Ford.

Marks Landing won the first half in the Monday Division. Currently in second half play there Firside Inn is tied for first place with Herron Transfer.

This Monday Herrons meet Foremans Window while Fireside duals with Millville Friends.

The first half winner meets the second half champ in each division with these two eventual winners playing off to decide the championship of the entire city league.

Clarence 'Bevo' Francis Now Kiln Fireman in Wellsville Shop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Remember Clarence (Bevo) Francis?

Just six years ago the bashful giant set never-approached records as a collegiate basketball scorer—1,954 points and a 50.1 average in 39 straight victories.

Today Bevo's happy and contented at an unglamorous job as kiln fireman in a pottery near his old Wellsville, Ohio, home.

The other factors of the terrific triumvirate which rode to fame on Bevo's sharpshooting have also settled back, far from the rim of the spotlight.

They would be Newt Oliver, Bevo's fiery, publicity-conscious coach, and little Rio Grande College, nestled down in the southeastern Ohio hills of Gallia County.

Oliver, who master-minded the whole show, is teaching mathematics and history in a rural junior high school near Springfield, Ohio. Rio Grande, which boasted only 94 pupils when Bevo was performing his deeds of deriding-do, now has a student body of 155. But the basketball record is 6-11.

Bevo's saga is a sports gem.

A puny, anemic kid, he had to be carried to his bath until he was 10.

His Hammondsville, Ohio schools had no basketball teams, so Francis and his young neighbors formed an independent club. They played in a lighted haymow, and it was there Bevo's uncanny eye developed.

His fame as an independent spread, and he finally wound up at Wellsville High School. But officials frowned on features surrounding the family shift and he was declared ineligible for a year. As a junior he scored 776 points in 25 games. The 20-year age limit caught him, and he was ineligible as a senior.

Oliver, the Wellsville mentor, was called by Rio Grande, his alma mater, to come home as coach at $230 per month. As a student there, Oliver had led the country in scoring (he's only 5 feet 7 in 1947-48 with 725 points).

As Oliver moved, so did Francis—although the latter had offers from three-score big colleges. Bevo was married, and he had to sell a hog to help defray school expenses.

In class he took high school as well as collegiate subjects. By mid-year, when he received his high school diploma, he had scored 903 points in 18 games for the college. Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Francis, after each game, laundered the four-year-old uniforms of the Redmen.

Bevo kept right on scoring, Rio Grande kept on winning, and the headlines got bigger. When Bevo hit 116 points in a single game, the 6-foot-9 kid was the talk of the country.

Oliver, at year's end, wanted more than his $230 per month in recognition of all the publicity and the 39-game winning streak. He found it with the professionals, and again Bevo went along—to the Boston Whirlwinds. For two years they clung together, then reached a parting of the ways, Bevo forming his own pro club for a two-year campaign. He and Oliver haven't spoken in two years.

"It was rugged, that pro ball," Bevo says. "We played as high as 250 games a year. I finally got tired of the whole thing, put basketball out of my mind and came home to go to work."

He lives at Highlandtown (population 500) with his wife, Mary, and their children Frank Jeffrey and Marjorie Ann. He commutes about nine miles each way to work. He likes the job and said "I might make a career of this pottery business. I don't have any worries—I tucked away quite a bit of that pro basketball loot. No, I don't miss those headlines."

Top Big 10 Scorers To Tangle at MSU

By The Associated Press

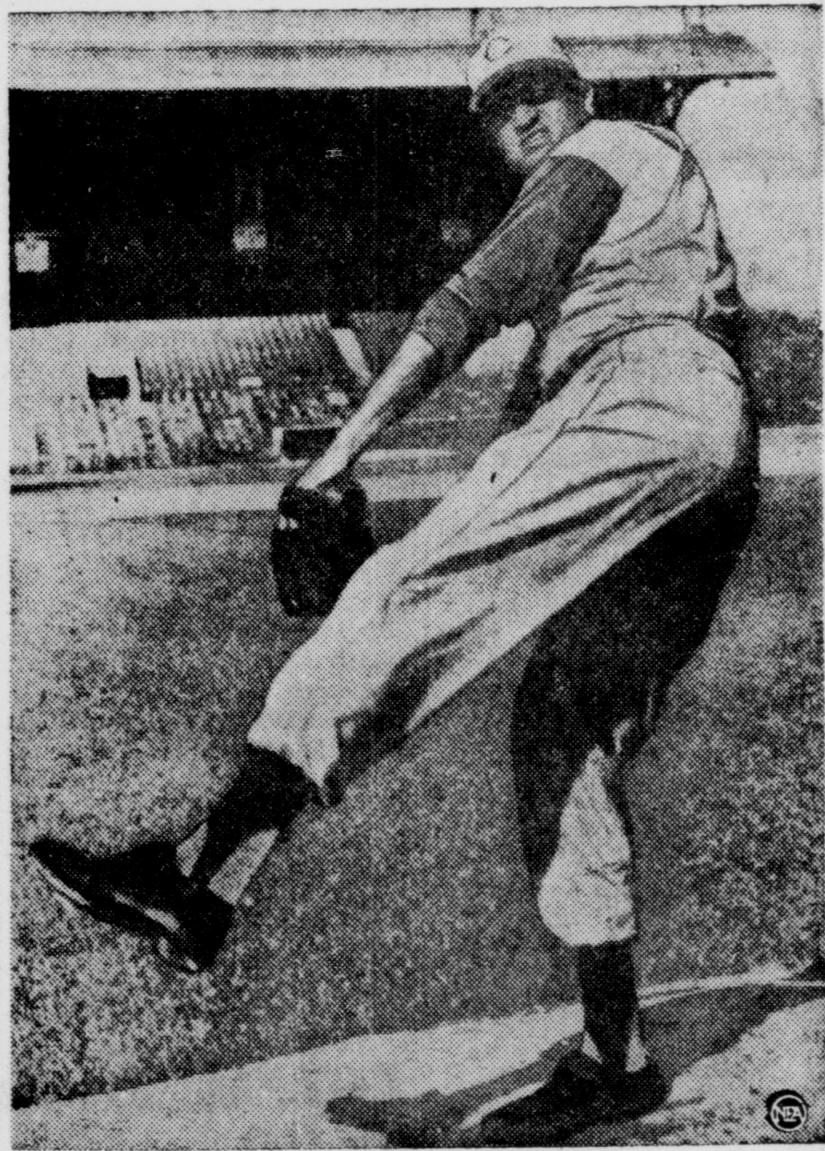

Two of the leading basketball scorers and rebounders in the Big Ten come face to face Saturday when Michigan invades Michigan State.

MSU, with a 6-2 mark, will try to tighten its hold on the conference lead.

Leading the Spartans is John Green who has a 20.2 scoring average and a 16.6 rebound average.

Michigan's Wolverines, with a 4-3 mark, will counter with M. C. Burton, who holds the conference scoring lead with 24.1 and also is tops in rebounding with 17 a game.

While Michigan will be striving for an upset, Indiana (5-3) will be at Minnesota (4-4), Iowa (4-4) at Wisconsin (1-6) and Purdue (4-4)

TRYING AGAIN — Don Newcombe entered the Baseball Players Golf Tournament at Miami, but the minute he hit the Southland he went to work at Miami Stadium. The Cincinnati right-hander still is trying to get back the live one that made him the National League's best.

at Northwestern (4-4) for an afternoon regional TV game. Illinois and Ohio State are idle.

Happenings last weekend indicate the title chase is far from clear cut. After Indiana defeated Michigan, the Hoosiers lost 89-83 to Illinois Monday. After beating MSU, Purdue lost to Wisconsin 91-86.

The second-place Hoosiers face a crucial test at Minnesota, for another loss would jolt any title chances.

Indiana has won only once in nine games at Minnesota since 1947.

Flying-Fists Mar North Carolina Tilt

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—"It breaks my heart to see something like that happen," a melancholy Wake Forest Coach Bones McKinney said Thursday night after a tense North Carolina-Deacon basketball game erupted into a free-swinging melee. The Tar Heels won 75-66.

Coach Frank McGuire of the second-ranked Tar Heels would only say, "It's a dangerous thing." Until the final 30 seconds, it was a hard-fought contest between two old Atlantic Coast Conference rivals.

Leading 33-32 at the half, North Carolina pulled away as Harvey Salz, York Larese and Lee Shaffer built the margin to 75-64 in the final seconds.

Shaffer and Deacon Charlie Forte scuffled for a loose ball, Deacon Dave Budd joining in. Both benches emptied and a flurry of fists followed.

Wake fans joined the scrap, slapping at Tar Heel players. Larese and Dick Kepley bore the brunt as they tried to reach the Carolina bench.

Police restored order and officials ejected Shaffer and Budd. Athletic directors of both schools and the coaches conferred with officials and complete new lineups came in.

Wake's Jerry Steele added the final field goal after play resumed.

"I got a good whack in the head," McKinney said later. "It's a shame it had to happen. It wasn't a particularly rough game."

It was North Carolina's 10th win against no ACC defeats. They are 15-1 over-all.

F. H. Merrill Jr. trained horses that won 171 races in 1958. He was the nation's leading trainer.

Sacrifices Can Halt Inflation

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

A friend remarked the other day that this business of inflation is like the weather. Everyone talks about inflation, but nobody does anything about it.

The big question is what can we do—you and I as individuals?

First, we should try to understand the cause of inflation—the underlying reasons for the inflation trend we now suffer. In different periods of history, in different countries, inflations have varied in degree, in cause, in effect.

Recently Dr. Gabriel Hauge, a former economic adviser to President Eisenhower, said: "We need more light on the wage-cost-price-profit sequence." The experts are pondering the source of the current inflation.

SECOND, we must be absolutely convinced of the evils of inflation.

If we accept a raise in pay we should not quibble about the higher cost of housing, transportation and such.

I see danger in statements like the ones Prof. Sumner H. Slichter of Harvard makes. He contends that "creeping inflation is inextricably tied with good features of the economy."

He says that creeping inflation this is the variety we now have) can be prevented from turning into runaway inflation. Finally, he argues, "The opponents of inflation have been unable to produce persons in large number who have suffered severely from inflation."

Has professor Slichter polled any of the older members of our population who live on fixed incomes? Has he polled any youngsters, the children whose parents' paychecks are needed to keep the family going or to provide for such extras as better education?

TEN YEARS AGO $525 would have covered Harvard's tuition bill. Today the cost is $1,250 and the college is having difficulty making ends meet since it costs $1,900 to carry each student versus $1,205 in 1948.

In rebuttal to Professor Slichter, and others who may take the threat of inflation lightly, an economist, a working newspaperman, who suffered the ravages of inflation in post-World War I Germany, comes as close as anyone I know to offering a recipe that you and I can apply against inflation.

"Inflation can be stopped virtually any time. But it can be stopped only at a price and there is considerable doubt whether we as a nation are prepared to make any real sacrifices for the sake of maintaining the value and integrity of our currency."

This economist is not out to kill off incentive for a rising standard of living. He is warning that as our demands rise in excess of our willingness to pay, we will be getting less and less of all that is good and necessary.
